HAVE you ever visited an iron foundry? Ever seen hard iron poured like cream? It is interesting.

Come and watch how we test, weigh and mix "Keithmetal"—the special furnace iron.

See for yourself how by putting an excess of brute strength into the vital parts, we make Keith furnaces wear and give good service a long, long time after ordinary furnaces have been replaced.

We know you will enjoy a trip through our plant. So come and see us. We are four blocks west of the south entrance to the Fairgrounds.

Here too you can see our new showrooms containing the latest air conditioning equipment.

ANNOUNCEMENT

With all Iowa, and with leaders of the nation bending every effort this year toward the rehabilitation of agriculture, and the restoration of the farmer to his rightful place in the economic world, the Iowa State Fair management feels a greater responsibility than ever in presenting an exposition this year that will be truly representative of agricultural Iowa, and genuinely helpful in pointing the way to better methods and better results on our Iowa farms.

More so than at any time in recent years, the 1932 Iowa State Fair is an "old-fashioned" State Fair—with even greater emphasis on livestock, grain and produce, orchard products, boys and girls' club work, and the educational features which convey graphic and worth while lessons to the visitor. The two hundred acres of exhibits assembled throughout the Exposition grounds this year are representative of almost every interest and vocation in the state—from the extension department at Ames to the factories and shops of our industrial centers; from the public schools to the orchards and flower gardens. As has been said by a noted writer, the Iowa State Fair is, in reality, the great "Show Window of Iowa."

Against the background of these thousands of educational features, the management presents also a brilliant and varied program of amusements calculated to please every age and taste. The entertainment events will open on Friday, August 26, continuing for eight days and nights through the afternoon of September 2. The following pages give a brief summary of the leading events, both among the educational and entertainment features, together with the detailed program by days.

F. E. SHELDON, MT. AYR.

Vice President Iowa State Fair and Exposition.

NATIONAL LIVESTOCK SHOW.

The National Livestock Show lives up to its name again this season with almost half the states in the Union represented by outstanding entries, forming in all its many divisions one of the greatest arrays of horses, cattle, swine and sheep to be seen at any show in North America this summer. Totals reveal that it is one of the largest shows of its kind at a state fair in 1932. In the various barns over 6,000 head of fine livestock is ready for judging and will receive approximately $70,000 in premiums. Judging will be in progress almost continuously from August 26 through September 1, with free seating accommodations for the public in the Livestock Pavilion. The State Fair board calls particular attention this year to the baby beef show in which boy and girl 4-H club members from counties throughout the state are presenting in competition the pick of over 3,500 animals which have been on feed in 1932. Baby beeves will be on display in the Baby Beef Barn, boys and girls' dairy heifers will be seen in the regular Cattle Barn, pigs in the Swine Pavilion, lambs in the Sheep Barn, colts in the Horse Barn, and poultry in the Poultry Building.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

State Fair visitors will find displays in the Agricultural Building bearing out full evidence of Iowa's continued leadership in every field of agriculture. This large building houses displays of crops, fruits, and garden produce grown in virtually every section of the state—in all showing almost every type of produce raised in Iowa. Of special interest are the county farm bureau exhibits presenting leading agricultural projects which the county organizations have carried out during the past year, and the county group exhibits of prize grains and produce.

The Agricultural Building also houses the state-wide horticultural show which presents each year the finest products of Iowa's orchards and gardens, the Iowa Apiary Show conducted in cooperation with the Iowa Bee Keepers Association, the displays of culinary art and pantry stores which will be found on the south balcony of the Iowa Flower Show occupying a large section of the main floor and north balcony. The flower show this year is probably the most gorgeous in the history of the fair, embodying among other features a series of model gardens completely landscaped and presented under the supervision of the Iowa Garden Clubs, and the official midwest show of the American Gladiolus Society. Lovers of flowers will find this exhibit one of the most worth while features of the exposition.

REPUBLICAN DAY—DEMOCRAT DAY.

The Iowa State Fair this year honors the two great political parties, designating Tuesday, August 30, as "Republican Day" and Thursday, September 1, as "Democrat Day" at the exposition. Both the Republican and Democratic State Central Committees have arranged programs for these two days with leading keynote speakers scheduled to address state-wide rallies of the two parties to be held on the two days in the Assembly Tent east of the Stock Pavilion. The general public is invited to attend both of these important meetings and to hear the messages on pertinent issues of the day as they are interpreted by party leaders.

FARM BUREAU.

The Iowa Farm Bureau Federation not only plays an important part in exhibits at the State Fair, but in the special daily programs as well. As a feature of the Women's Exposition, more than a score of county women's farm bureaus are presenting special project exhibits showing the work carried on in townships in all sections of the state during the last twelve months. These are found in the Women and Children's Building. In Agricultural Hall, seven unusual booths are presented by county farm bureaus which have carried on outstanding agricultural projects during the past year. Farm Bureau Day, Monday, August 29, will be one of the outstanding days of the fair. Officials have planned an all-day program to be presented in the large Assembly Tent east of the Livestock Pavilion. James C. Stone, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, and Governor Dan Turner will give special addresses during the day. On Saturday, August 27, Farm Bureau women from a score of counties will compete in a state Farm Bureau women's public speaking contest to be held on the second floor of the Women and Children's Building. The winner will be presented with the American Farm Bureau Federation medal on Farm Bureau Day. This entitles her to compete in the national contest to be held by the American Farm Bureau federation this winter. Numerous other features are planned for the Farm Bureau Day program. Seven county farm bureaus which have conducted rural drama projects will present plays in the Women and Children's Building each day of the fair. One play will be presented each morning and one each afternoon. As in past years, the Farm Bureau camp ground is located just inside the Poultry Building entrance to the main camp, with individual areas set aside for members from each county in the state. A general Farm Bureau headquarters for members is maintained throughout the period of the fair in the Agricultural Building, and state federation groups are represented nearby in a special tent, east of the Stock Pavilion.

FARMERS' UNION.

Farmers Union members and friends are urged to stop in at the Farmers Union exhibit building located just east of the Fish and Game Building on Grand Avenue, where "open house" will be held throughout the period of the fair. This building embraces many interesting displays for farmers and many practical features for the farm home. The Farmers Union also has a special section in the free camp ground just east of the Grand Avenue entrance to the main camp, where members may camp together throughout the period of the fair. Special attention is also called to the big Farmers Union meeting which will be held in the assembly tent east of the livestock pavilion, Wednesday afternoon, August 31, where noted speakers will discuss leading farm problems of the day.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITS.

Vocational agricultural exhibits have attracted wide attention at past state fairs, and the success of the work during the past year leads to the presentation of an entirely new series of exhibits this year. These are located on the second floor of the Educational Building. Special project booths are included in the display which is under the supervision of the Vocational Agriculture Department of five leading schools of the state. Students and instructors in vocational agriculture have been invited to make these booths their headquarters while attending the fair.

EDUCATIONAL EXPOSITION.

The Educational Building, one of the finest buildings of its type in America today, is given over almost entirely to a state-wide exhibition of the work being done in the leading universities, colleges, public and private schools of the state. On the ground floor of this building are the exhibits of the State University, Iowa State College, State Teachers College, State Board of Control, School for the Blind, School for the Deaf, and Boys and Girls' 4-H Clubs. On the second floor exhibits by more than 100 public schools of Iowa, well known independent and denominational colleges, and special social and welfare institutions, will be found.

IOWA ART SALON.

The Iowa Art Salon, also located on the second floor of the Educational Building, this year embraces the work of many of the foremost professional artists of Iowa, including the paintings of several past prize winners who are nationally known. In addition to the Iowa pictures, the display features a special loan exhibit by the Chicago Galleries Association, which includes the canvases of some of the nation's best known masters. The entire display is open to the public throughout the period of the state fair.

INDUSTRIAL AND MACHINERY SHOW.

The question, "What is new in farm machinery and home conveniences?" is answered in the annual Industrial and Machinery Show which is located on the forty-acre tract south of Grand Avenue, just inside the Grand Avenue entrance. New types of farm machinery and conveniences, as well as all types of modern equipment for the home, assembled from all sections of the United States, are included in this feature of the exposition. While special emphasis is placed on farm equipment, the show also includes scores of new household conveniences of interest to every home owner, as well as trucks, tractors and other items of heavy machinery.

IOWA WILD LIFE EXHIBIT.

The Iowa Wild Life Exhibit, one of the most popular features of the Iowa State Fair, is located in the beautiful Fish and Game Building on Grand Avenue. Approximately 3,000 living fish, found in Iowa's lakes and rivers, are housed in the aquariums, while near-by in pens and cages are numerous species of birds and animals typical of the game found in the state. This exhibit attracts the wide attention of the thousands of nature lovers of Iowa who visit the state fair annually. An additional feature is a series of moving pictures which are shown daily during the fair, presenting the work of the Fish and Game Department, particularly stressing conservation of Iowa wild life. Officials of the department are in attendance, and gladly answer questions concerning the exhibit.

STATE BOARD OF CONTROL.

Special attention of fair visitors is called to the exhibit of the Iowa State Board of Control which is located on the ground floor of the Educational Building. Here are found examples of the work carried on in the fifteen different state institutions operated by this department of the state government. The exhibit as a whole depicts the wide vocational program carried on by these institutions. Livestock breeders will find Board of Control herds of dairy cattle from the hospitals and welfare institutions, in the Cattle Barn.

BOYS AND GIRLS' 4-H CLUB CONGRESS.

The Iowa Boys and Girls' 4-H Club Congress, comprising the largest junior state fair to be presented by any state in the Union, sums up the numerous divisions of the exposition and special departments devoted to club activities at the 1932 Iowa State Fair. More than 2,000 junior farmers are participating in competition for more than $12,000 in cash premiums offered. From the opening day to the closing day of the exposition, club features are prominent on all the fair programs. In the livestock department more than 1,800 animals are entered by club boys and girls, comprising the largest junior stock show in the United States. In addition to the livestock events, boys and girls' club work is featured in the Educational Building where demonstrations and contests are in progress each morning and afternoon of the exposition. Boys and girls' livestock judging contests are held Thursday and Friday of the fair in the Livestock Pavilion and are open to the public. Selected members of the clubs have charge of the ushering in the grandstand and will assist in the Livestock Pavilion throughout the period of the exposition.

C. E. CAMERON, ALTA.
President Emeritus Iowa State Fair and Exposition.

JUDGING EVENTS.

One of the greatest features of the state fair is the judging of livestock classes in which nearly $70,000 in cash prizes will be awarded this year. Judging in these livestock classes will be in progress almost continuously from the opening Friday, August 26, through Thursday, September 1, and visitors are invited to view the judging in any of the various rings at their pleasure. Principal horse and cattle classes are judged in the livestock show pavilion where free seating accommodations are provided for the public. Boys and girls' livestock is judged on Friday and Saturday, August 26 and 27, while judging in the open classes begins on Monday, August 29, continuing through Thursday, September 1. Horses are judged in the mornings, and cattle in the afternoons. Swine judging is continuous throughout each day in the Swine Barn. Sheep are judged in the Sheep Barn. Judging for the poultry division takes place in the Poultry Building on Friday and Saturday, August 26 and 27. The agricultural classes and numerous other departments are judged early during the exposition in the respective buildings where these exhibits are located. The All-Iowa Society Horse Shows, a new feature this year, will be judged on the evenings of August 29, 30, 31, and September 1. A special feature of the Society Horse Shows is the Graham Western Riders, a group of junior rodeo stars, youngsters who in many instances exceed in daring and skill riding of their adult contemporaries.

IOWA STATE COLLEGE.

Many different branches of Iowa State College are represented in the exhibit located on the ground floor of the Educational Building. A unified exhibit is presented this year in the form of a formal garden with a central pool planned by the Landscape Architecture Department, and executed jointly with the Department of Horticulture. Pictures of different activities that are carried on at the State College are found around the edge of the exhibit. In addition to this, through motion pictures, various features of the college program and its activities are stressed. Fair visitors are urged to visit this unique exhibit.

UNIVERSITY OF IOWA.

The State University display, located in the Educational Building, is one of the most pretentious and comprehensive ever brought to the Iowa State Fair. Some of the most interesting features include examples of corrective work being done in the Children's Hospital at Iowa City; hydraulic, mechanical, and electrical engineering; latest pharmaceutical products manufactured by the College of Pharmacy; a display of modern X-ray pictures; and an orthodontia display from the Bureau of Dental Hygiene. Free moving pictures are presented each day, showing activities, and including educational talking pictures made under the direction of the Extension Division. Other features are models of the new music studios, the projected unit of the School of Fine Arts, publications issued by the School of Journalism, a huge panoramic model of the Iowa stadium and field house, and views of the new General Hospital and School of Nursing.

IOWA STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE.

A special invitation is extended Iowa educators to make their headquarters at the Iowa State Teachers College exhibit on the ground floor of the Educational Building. The 1932 exhibit is of interest to the general public as well as to teachers, and includes the leading types of work now carried on at Cedar Falls. Those contemplating teaching as a profession will find the exhibit of particular interest.

ADULT HEALTH CLINIC.

A new feature of the 1932 Iowa State Fair is the Adult Health Clinic conducted under the auspices of the Osteopathic Physicians of the state of Iowa in the Exposition Building. Under the direction of a special committee, a number of leading osteopaths from all parts of the state will give their services throughout the period of the fair in examining adults for health defects. Specialists in the various branches of Osteopathy will give free physical examinations daily from Friday, August 26, through September 2, with daily hours from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

IOWA WOMEN'S EXPOSITION.

Two of the largest buildings on the fair grounds, the Women and Children's Building and the Exposition Building, are utilized in the presentation of the state-wide Women's Exposition which includes countless exhibits and special features of interest to all Iowa women. Cooperating in sponsoring the event are many representative women's groups of the state including the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs, the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, the Parent-Teacher Association, and others. In the Women and Children's Building are housed the thirty exhibits of the women's county farm bureaus, the Baby Health contest, State Department of Health exhibit, while in the auditorium of this building are presented each day the one-act plays by county farm bureau groups, the Little Country Theater plays presented daily by the Green Room Players of Des Moines, as well as many other features and programs including home economics demonstrations, dances, special lectures, programs on community recreation, style shows, etc. The Ames Marionettes, an unique organization of boys, presents a complete puppet show daily, Iowa musicians and their musical compositions is a daily feature presented by the Iowa Federation of Music Clubs under the title, "Musical Iowana." Displays of fancy work, sewing, interior decoration, home furnishing and hand-painted china, are located in the Exposition Building. Entries in the culinary and canning divisions are displayed on the balcony of the Agricultural Building. The State Library Commission presents an unique exhibit on the second floor of the Educational Building, where the Iowa Art Salon, and numerous other features of interest to women will be found. Large porches, quiet rest rooms, and a special day nursery conducted by competent nurses, are other conveniences for women provided in the Women and Children's Building.

AUTOGIRO.

Last year at the Iowa State Fair, visitors saw for the first time the unique spectacle of the Autogiro. The Iowa State Fair, in cooperation with the Des Moines Register and Tribune, again takes pleasure in presenting the Autogiro as a headline feature each afternoon of the fair. In addition to a daily demonstration in front of the grandstand, the Autogiro will also be on exhibition throughout the period of the fair in a tent just inside the Grand Avenue entrance. Pilot Charles W. Gatschet, well known Register and Tribune pilot, will put the 'giro through its paces demonstrating such features as "hovering in air," descending almost vertically at a lower rate of speed than a parachute travels, and other amazing feats.

HAUGDAHL "ROCKET CAR."

On the opening night, Friday night, August 26, Sig Haugdahl, famous Minnesota race driver, will introduce his flaming, motorless "rocket car" in a special speed trial on the state fair track in front of the grandstand. The "rocket car" idea, which killed several men before Haugdahl perfected his unique vehicle, will be driven only on this one night. The car is propelled by 32 special rockets which send it flying around the track, a mass of smoke and flame—the driver hardly visible. Haugdahl will exhibit his creation throughout the period of the fair in a tent on the grounds for those who wish a closeup of this new type of automobile.

TEAM PULLING CONTEST.

The Iowa State Fair has again offered $500 in cash prizes for the champion draft horse teams of Iowa, to be selected in the annual state-wide pulling contest held Wednesday afternoon, August 31, and Thursday morning, September 1. The contest is staged on the pulling field just south of the street car entrance. On the east side of the field free seating accommodations are provided. This special contest, an annual feature of the state fair, is sponsored jointly by the Horse Association of America and the Iowa State Fair.

HORSESHOE PITCHING TOURNAMENT.

Again this year, Iowa's best known horseshoe pitchers will compete in the official State Horseshoe Pitching Tournament for prizes of $340 at the horseshoe courts immediately north of the Horse Barn. The tournament is open to all Iowa players and will begin Monday afternoon, August 29, continuing through Wednesday, August 31. Special stands are provided for those wishing to watch the tournament. Exhibition pitching will be an added feature this year, in which several champions well known to Iowans will participate.

OLD FIDDLERS' CONTEST.

All Iowa old-time fiddlers, 50 years of age or over, are eligible to compete in the annual state Old Fiddlers' Contest to be held in the Assembly Tent east of the Stock Pavilion, Friday, August 26, continuing through Saturday, August 27. Old fiddlers will compete for $100 in cash prizes in this event. The public is invited to attend.

IOWA STATE FAIR CAMP.

Thousands of Iowans are enjoying the facilities of the State Fair Camp Grounds, the beautifully wooded one hundred acre tract set aside exclusively for the use of those who enjoy camping out at the exposition. Among the many excellent features of the camp is the new shower bath house which is located on A Avenue and Fifth Street just north of Farm Bureau Camp headquarters. There are showers for both men and women, hot and cold water, towels and soap furnished by attendants in charge. A nominal charge is made to cover costs. The camp is located immediately east of the main fair grounds and is provided with special entrances and exits connecting with the state fair proper. City water, sanitary facilities, electric lights, store, police and fire protection, are among the many features included in the camp. Those who wish to camp, but who do not have the necessary equipment, can obtain tents, cots, bedding, tables, etc., at the special warehouse located near the Grand Avenue camp grounds entrance.

MODERN WOODMEN OF AMERICA ENCAMPMENT.

The state encampment of Modern Woodmen of America with prize drill teams from all parts of Iowa in attendance and with over $1,500 in cash awards for competitive drilling will be one of the outstanding features of the fair, August 28 to 31, inclusive. Over 500 members of these drill teams will camp at the fair and participate in contests and in exhibition drills in front of the grandstand to be held on August 29 and 30, both in the afternoon and evening. The camp is known as Camp Talbot in honor of the head consul, A. R. Talbot of Lincoln, Nebraska. Exhibition drills and contests of this type are most unique, and show skill and precision second only to the drilling of crack troops of the United States Army.

CHILDREN'S DAY—"MINE'S" BIRTHDAY PARTY.

"Mine," Iowa's own baby elephant, has extended a special invitation to all boys and girls, 15 years of age or under, to come to the fair on Friday, August 26, as special guests at her annual birthday party. "Mine" is one year older—making this her fifth birthday celebration. The birthday party will feature Children's Day at the fair, and boys and girls 15 years of age or under will be admitted free to the grounds. The party will start at 9:30 a. m. Last year "Mine" participated in a tug-of-war, and lost. Having gained some weight and having practiced this summer, she will pit her strength against 25 boys and girls again this year. She will also present a new group of tricks. Special music, added attractions, daylight fireworks, and other features will form the Children's Day program. A special added feature will be presented in front of the grandstand during the afternoon when 25 little greased pigs will be turned loose for boys and girls to catch. Catchers will be keepers of the pigs. Children's Day marks the opening day of the fair.

RACING PROGRAM.

Speed and thrills are assured for this year's racing program at the Iowa State Fair. The creation of a new national auto race circuit, the addition of a special motorcycle race day card, and the greatest array of well known pacers and trotters ever entered in the four-day horse racing program of the fair, promise a speed program filled with interest for lovers of outdoor sport. The program comprises two days of auto racing, one day of motorcycle races, and four days of horse racing. More than 200 fast trotters and pacers are entered to compete for $14,000 purses on August 29, 30, 31, and September 1. The creation of a new auto race circuit providing four weeks of races in the midwest with the Iowa exposition a part of the circuit, assures two days of record-breaking auto races, August 26 and September 2. On "Thrill Day," Saturday, August 27, fair visitors will witness the first motorcycle race card presented over the state fair track in recent years. More than a score of famous riders are entered including many nationally known stars.

CIRCUS AND HIPPODROME.

The Iowa State Fair this year presents one of the largest and spectacular circus revues brought to the exposition in recent years. Sixteen of the most widely-renowned acts from the leading circus arenas of America and Europe have been imported for this big show which will be presented in front of the grandstand each afternoon and evening of the fair. Featuring the circus attractions this year are many noted "thrillers" of a most sensational nature, including Oscar Babcock in his "Death Trap Loop" riding a bicycle around a narrow track, looping the loop, and leaping through space a distance of 35 feet; Costi Florescu, Italian dare-devil who performs atop a 115-foot swinging pole, climaxing his act with his noted "human pendulum" swing; Bobby McLean, Scotch ice skating champion, and a corps of all-star skaters; the Liazeed Troupe of Arabian strong men, and others of like caliber. Visitors to the fair who enjoy thrilling circus attractions should not fail to witness at least one of these unusual grandstand programs. These circus events are in addition to the regular grandstand features each afternoon and evening comprising horse racing, auto racing, motorcycle racing, auto polo, "World on Parade," concerts by noted bands, and other outstanding attractions.

They will be heard in two concerts daily, and will be assisted by the Metropolitan Grand Opera Quartet. MUSIC DAY.

A special Music Day has been planned for Sunday, August 28, featuring both afternoon and evening band concerts in front of the Grandstand, and on the Plaza. Main exhibit buildings will be open to the public Sunday afternoon and the beautiful Iowa Flower Show will be a special feature throughout the day in the Agricultural Building. William "Billy" Sunday, famous evangelist, will give a special address in front of the Grandstand at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, under the sponsorship of the Iowa Gideons. Religious services and Sunday School will be conducted in the morning by prominent church leaders of the state, in the Women's Building and the Livestock Pavilion. Sunday evening, George Washington, first president, will be honored in a special program of Washington Bicentennial Fireworks in front of the Grandstand, augmented by "World on Parade," the beautiful musical and hippodrome revue.

ALL-IOWA SOCIETY HORSE SHOWS.

A distinct change which has met with the wide approval of both horse-loving public and horse fanciers is the All-Iowa Society Horse Show, a new feature of the Iowa State Fair. For the four evenings the Society Horse Shows will be held in the Livestock Pavilion, August 29, 30, 31, and September 1, with foremost stables of the state competing for approximately $3,000 in cash prizes. These shows open at 7:30 p. m. and doors of the Livestock Pavilion open at 7:00. Preceding the show events each evening will be a grand parade of prize winning livestock. A junior rodeo, Graham's Western Riders, including a group of juvenile stars who do surprising riding and roping tricks, will be an additional attraction at the Horse Shows each night.

TELEVISION.

A modern television show, in which fair visitors will see and hear the actual sending and receiving of songs, speeches, and other features, by means of the latest type high powered equipment, is a new feature of the 1932 State Fair. This show will be situated in Machinery Hall. Two special studios will be open to the public, one used for sending and the other used for receiving. In one the public sees artists broadcasting, while in the other they see the image reproduced with the sound. An expert technician is on duty each day to lecture and explain the science of this new marvel of radio. Actual broadcasting will be carried on each day of the fair.

MIDWAY SHOWS.

Beckmann and Gerety's World's Best Shows have brought 35 carloads of new sideshows and new riding devices to the 1932 Iowa State Fair, presenting the most complete Midway in recent years. The Midway is located just east of the Grandstand. Featuring the show is Singer's Famous Midget Band, the motordrome with riding lions, a flea circus and numerous other shows and thrill producing rides.

"THRILL DAY" TRAIN WRECK.

Stretching from the hill east of the race track across the fair grounds in front of the Grandstand to the horsebarns, more than 3,200 feet of track has been laid. Two 225,000-pound locomotives tuned up by competent engineers, their throttles wide open, will be started full speed from opposite ends of the track, for a plunge of destruction in front of the Grandstand to headline the "Thrill Day" program on Saturday afternoon, August 27. Other sensation-producing features of the day are a grade crossing wreck between a train and an automobile, a head-on collision between two automobiles, trick and fancy motorcycle riding, seven motorcycle races, with 20 famous riders entered, an "Ash Can" Derby race between old time cars, and a complete hippodrome and outdoor circus including famous performers from the sawdust ring.

"THE WORLD ON PARADE."

A new edition of the sensational hit of last year. A grand scale musical production, eclipsing all past endeavors of the theatrical world presented each evening in front of the Grandstand from August 26 through Sept. 1.

Prologue.

The scene here depicted serves to introduce to the audience the theme of "The World on Parade," and to invite them, in fancy, to become a part of this magical and enchanting trip around the globe.

A mighty "phantom airship" has left its home port in the United States on a cruise to the old world, carrying a group of pleasure-bound tourists who seek the lands of mystery, thrills and romance—the lands where beauty is bounteous and laughter is king—the lands where time to play always pays. As the great ship speeds through the starry night the spectators see its blinking lights and hear its roaring motors, an announcement that the world-tourers are about to make their first landing in the land of mirth, of music and of song. And so now, on with the show—

On the Riviera.

The scene is the Promenade Des Anglais, the fast-beating heart of the Riviera—the showplace of that strange little principality, Monte Carlo. The famous "high season" is on, mirth is king—the Riviera is a pulsating color-splashed panorama of laughter, music and song—the "tables of chance," the opera and the functions of the Royalties have given away to a whirlpool of syncopation, excitement and thrills. It is, in fact, an amazingly swift and gay spectacle that literally transports the audience into the midst of the "Coast of the Setting Sun's" most famous celebration—"The Carnival of Nice and the Festival of the Roses." Here the audience is treated to a striking example of modern stagecraft, involving elaborate mechanical construction and a transformation scene that is unique on the American stage. The display of gorgeous costumes, latest creations from Paris, New York and Hollywood, is another highlight. The very nature of the scene exemplified gayety, life and color and gives to the great cast of artists an opportunity that is designed to bring out many surprises, novelties and much of the individual talent of the company's principals. Next stop is India.

The World on Parade tourists arrive at Delhi. No city in India conjures up visions of the past glory of the Moghal emperors as does its capital and historical center, Delhi. Here the famous Durbar is held, the world's greatest display of imperial pomp and medieval splendor. It is the highlights of the entertainment features from this supreme pageant that the World on Parade brings to its audience. The stage is a sea of multi-colored costumes, of turbaned heads and strange sights. Here is the acme of Oriental staging, with its milling Hindus, Rajputs and Mohammedans; its high chiefs and sultans, some on foot and others mounted on spirited horses; with its black-eyed dancing girls, its weird but fascinating music and its scenic setting, typical of the lure and beauty of the Far East. It is a grand sight, a grand show, a production so elaborate and so vast that one wonders what will come next—so now to Russia.

A character study of Sovietland, with bits of color from the tinsel grandeur of the imperial regime to the communistic rule of today. The curtain parts on a winter scene typical of those in Russia. The audience is awed by the realism of the sparkling snow, and there is a skating rink of real ice. A holiday is being celebrated near the famous Kremlin, and in the galaxy of stage stars taking part are ice skaters of international fame. Into this spectacle is crowded a remarkable array of thrilling entertainment, features that have been gathered from all parts of the globe. Native Russian dances are portrayed by the splendid Foster Dancers, an aggregation of terpsichorean stars from the ballets of grand opera and from the leading musical comedy shows. In "Russia" the producers have given comedy a free rein, and there are noted comics from both the old and new world who will cause many an outburst of hilarious laughter. And now, while the melodies of the Russian number still linger in the ears of the audience, the great ship is carrying its globe-trotters to Spain.

A Rhapsody in Red, presenting, among numerous other features, excerpts from that fervent, vivacious opera "Carmen." The Metropolitan Grand Opera Quartette will sing a number of the outstanding gems of this perennial favorite. Perhaps no scene in The World on Parade permits of a wider scope for the intermingling and presentation of a varied program of entertainment than does "Spain." Many of the principal specialties and unique staging ideas are introduced in this number. The ballet ensembles are unusually effective, especially the divertissement where the girls are costumed as fiery senoritas. Single specialties, trios and acts of larger personnel also come in for their share of the laurels during this scene. Comedy, always appropriate and enjoyed by outdoor audiences, out for a day of fun and excitement, is liberally sprinkled in the spots where it will provoke genuine mirth. And now back to

The Good Old U. S. A.

A patriotic display in honor of the 200th anniversary of our first president—
George Washington.

Portraying one of the most impressive events in the life of the greatest of leaders, the father of his country, that of being vested with the highest of military ranks, the commander in chief of the Continental army. The scene is staged with the truest respect for historical detail and the solemnity of the occasion. The costuming and music are authentic also, having been approved by the Bicentennial Commission at Washington. The character of George Washington will be played by an artist of distinction. The dramatic moments of the episode are handled with historical and histrionic accuracy. Following the George Washington episode, other tableaux glimpses of our country's history, entitled "America Marching On," will be featured, all to be climaxed by a super-display of gorgeous fireworks.

THE 1932 EDITION OF "THE WORLD ON PARADE"

An International Extravaganza.

Explanation of Action.

- Prologue—The scene here depicted serves to introduce to the audience the theme of "The World On Parade," and to invite them, in fancy, to become a part of a magical and enchanting trip around the world. A "Phantom-airship" is arriving from America, carrying a group of tourists, who seek the lands of romance, gayety and thrills.
- Episode One—NICE—That fast-beating heart of the Riviera, where we are about to witness the famous "Carnival of Nice," and "The Festival of Roses." A pulsating panorama of song, music and dance, together with novel features from the great theatrical centers of the world.
- Episode Two—INDIA—With highlights from the renowned "Durbar," with its famous parade of Rajputs, Hindus, Mohammedans, Sultans, etc. International ballets in native dances of the far east—Riotous coloring, wonderful singing, entrancing music.
- Episode Three—RUSSIA—Typical winter scene in Russia, featuring a novelty in outdoor staging, "The Ice Skating Ballet." A sparkling innovation enhanced by beautiful costumes.
- Episode Four—SPAIN—"A Rhapsody in Red," with excerpts from that fervent, vivacious opera, "Carmen," introducing celebrities from grand opera. Life, color, and whirlwind action are brought to the peaks of thrilling entertainment in "Spain."

Sears' Broad 1932 Policy

OF GREATEST IMPORTANCE today are the costs of the necessities of life. That we have realized. We have planned for it. We have sacrificed our own profits so that those most affected may still be able to meet the needs of their families at the lowest prices, at which satisfactory dependable goods can be sold.

We can not control prices you get for your products or labor, but we can help equalize your income, by bringing you the things you need at the lowest costs for this fall and winter.

We realize that men and women who work and their children who go to school must be warmly clad this winter. So Sears has drastically repriced all kinds of warm clothing.

Repairing, rather than replacing, will be the order in many families. Women will sew more this year, and to meet this emergency Sears will bring radical price reductions on all sewing needs.

We realize the struggle everywhere to make ends meet, and we are striving to do our part in every way.

WALLACES' FARMER

Iowa Homestead

Good Farming Clear Thinking Right Living

extends to state fair visitors a cordial invitation to visit its headquarters in the east end of Machinery Hall and to visit its large and attractive plant at 19th Street and Grand Avenue.

We like to get better acquainted with our farm friends and to confer with them about matters of mutual interest. We like also to meet manufacturers and their representatives on the occasion of their visit to the state fair.

Our headquarters in Machinery Hall are maintained from 8:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M. Our plant at 19th Street and Grand Avenue, where nearly 300 people are employed, is open for inspection by visitors from 9:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M. It is one of the largest and most complete printing establishments in the West, and on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays our folks can see the paper being printed on the largest farm paper printing press in the world. It is a real sight.

Wallaces' Farmer and Iowa Homestead reaches approximately 95 per cent of the farm homes in Iowa. It studies the needs of every member of the farm family and is a welcome visitor to all.

Come in and get acquainted with us. We are friendly people and like to meet our friends on the farm as well as our friends in the manufacturing business who are patrons of our advertising columns. If there are any questions you wish to ask with regard to farm crops and livestock or with regard to Iowa and its agricultural resources, we have the information available. By all means, come in and get acquainted.

IOWA STATE FAIR SERVES ALL IOWA

Likewise Does

The Iowa Auto Market

Serve All Iowa With Their 14 Road Representatives

CLAUDE TRAWVER, President and General Manager of the Iowa Auto Market, says:

"In the fall of 1908 and 1909 I served the fair in the capacity of policeman, and my! how important I felt. But, what I started to say was, that I have always had a warm place in my heart for the Iowa State Fair. It is one of the best educational institutions in the state, combining learning with pleasure, and, after all, it's the things we see, we remember.

"It is with pleasure I personally invite you to visit the Iowa Auto Market, 1309-19 Locust Street, Des Moines, while at the fair. It represents 20 years of earnest effort to build the only Auto Department Store in America. It is patterned after Marshall Field in Chicago, only it's built around automobiles, selling wholesale and retail, new and used parts, every part and accessory and a little further, every service known to the automobile industry."
